Music $40.00 for 4 weeks	Thursdays  1:45 to 2:15  Ages 3 months to 36 months	First Notes: 3 months to 18 months Expose your youngest children to music and instruments so that their brain will be programmed toward music at a young age. (See article below.) The class is led by a trained musician who plays piano and one or more other instruments. The teacher leads the infants and the grown up who brings them in songs, finger plays, dances and more. She introduces various instruments to the children by playing them so they hear how they sound and letting them touch the instruments as well. The parent participant helps their child hold the small sized percussion instruments. Parents are excited to see how quickly their little ones join in by grasping an instrument and shaking it or moving their body in perfect rhythm to a song the teacher is leading. Various styles of music are included in our time together. Tunes for Twos: 18 months to 36 months As your child gets older they are able to play more and more instruments because of their small muscle coordination. You will also notice that they are remembering the songs and fingerplays we sing and repeating them. They begin to enjoy dancing and moving to the music more and more. At this age we introduce them to the handbells as well as the keyboard. Puppets and various props are also used. The two year olds really enjoy drums as well. We actually make some instruments for them to use at home. We make one instrument per month as part of the curriculum.
